Kewaunee County Sheriff's Department Aims to Begin the New Year on a Good Note

KEWAUNEE, WI – The Kewaunee County Sheriff's Department hopes to start off January 1, 2017 with zero arrests. The sheriff's department plans to have a strong patrol presence out on the roads for New Year's Eve.

Officials encourage party goers to plan ahead, so they have a safe ride home and be responsible, as noticed in years past. "In actuality, New Year's Eve is usually one of our quieter nights," said Sheriff Matt Joski, Kewaunee County Sheriff's Department.

Kewaunee County does have a "Safe Ride" program, which was established through the Kewaunee County Tavern League. New Year's Eve revelers should inquire at area establishments to confirm this as an option, during the celebratory holiday weekend.

Sheriff Joski added, "If all else fails, feel free to call me personally. I would rather get woken up by the call to give you a ride home, than to be woken up to make the call to your loved ones that you're never coming home." If needed, Sheriff Joski can be reached at (920) 255-1100.
